

All the Pieces Working Together

2009 LIVINGSTON ANNUAL REPORT

Mayor's Letter

Dear Fellow Citizens:

To say that 2009 was a hard year for our nation's economy and our local economy greatly understates the difficulties that many of our residents and businesses have experienced. However, in spite of declining resources and increased costs, I am proud to report that the City of Livingston has held fast and we remain hopeful as we see signs of growth and development here at home.

While City revenues have been reduced due to the decline in sales tax, our financial condition remains sound. City services continued throughout 2009 without decrease or interruption. All of our utilities have been regularly maintained and repaired with minimal service disruption. Brush is regularly collected, helping to improve the appearance of our neighborhoods and public rights-of-way. Our swimming pool and golf course enjoy good attendance as weather allows. Our library continues to provide expanded services and serves an increasing number of customers. Our parks provide Summer Camps and year-long opportunities for play, gatherings of families and community groups. Our monthly Trade Days and our yearly special events like the Easter Eggstravaganza, the Red White and Blue Fourth of July Parade and our Hometown Christmas, continue to provide opportunities for fun and entertainment for our citizens and visitors from out of town.

The past year has been a time of determining priorities and addressing solutions to the City's aging infrastructure. Water service delivery has been improved with the installation of new water lines to replace and upgrade service in several areas of the City. Additionally, the pumping station on Cemetery Hill was improved and we continue to make additional improvements to our water system. Our transmission line, which supplies water from Lake Livingston, will be replaced in 2010 with a new, larger line to increase the capacity of our water supply for the community. Sanitary sewer lift stations will be upgraded to accommodate new development and will be equipped with generators so pumps will continue to work in the event of extended power outages. Funding from the Texas Department of Rural Affairs community development block grant will be used to improve some unpaved streets in the northwest section of our City.

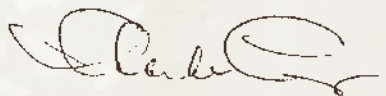

Even with the downturn of the economy, there are significant construction projects underway which show the continuing growth in our community. We look forward to the completion of the Livingston ISD High School Campus on FM 350 South, the Polk County Judicial Center in downtown Livingston and the expansion of the Polk County Law Enforcement Center on Business 59 (North Washington). Developers remain interested in the commercial promise Livingston offers and new medical facilities, restaurants, lodging and retail businesses are meeting with our community development staff to move forward with their projects.

The heart of the City is our employees and their dedication to serving the community. Our Public Works, Parks and Electric crews work long hours, many times in adverse weather conditions, to ensure that our streets can be traveled safely and that our homes and businesses have electric and water service. Our Police Department is always ready to respond and is committed to providing daily protection and assistance to our citizens. The volunteers of the Livingston Fire Department spare no effort in responding to fires, traffic accidents and other emergencies and they were especially vigilant during the drought we experienced this past summer.

Community service is not only provided by elected officials and employees of the City. We are fortunate to have many citizens who take pride in their hometown; they commit many hours of service to the improvement of our neighborhoods and to ensure the youth of our community are able to participate in a variety of recreational activities. Whether through rodeo, soccer, baseball, swimming, softball or the arts, community groups that are dedicated to our youth use City facilities to promote their sports and activities. Without these volunteers, we would not be able to offer these recreational activities for the youth in our community.

On behalf of our City Council, let me thank each of the many community volunteers for your efforts. Together, we can work to improve our community and move forward toward a prosperous 2010.

Marilyn Sutton, City Manager and Finance Officer.

- Elgin Davis and incumbents Judy Cochran and Ray Luna began new City Council terms after the cancellation of the May 9 election.
- Councilman Ray Hill was reappointed as the City's representative on the Deep East Texas Council of Governments Board.
- Clarke Evans was appointed to the Sam Rayburn Municipal Power Agency Board.
- On petition by the Livingston Independent School District, the City annexed the 72-acre site of the new Livingston High School.
- City Secretary Ellie Monteaux entered the Texas Municipal Clerks Certification program to become certified as a Texas Registered Municipal Clerk.
- Debbie Clack was transferred to the position of Accounts Payable Clerk where she was responsible for processing approximately 3,400 payments on the City's accounts in 2009.
- Utility Billing added online account access through the City's Web site, allowing customers direct access to their account information and increasing options for payment on utility accounts.
- Electric rates were increased to offset the City's cost to purchase wholesale electric power from the Sam Rayburn Municipal Power Agency.
- The City received its first reimbursement from FEMA for Hurricane Ike Debris Recovery expenses ($413,497.00). Total damages and costs were estimated at $1,288,180.18. ($1,020,631.12 has been received to date from FEMA reimbursement and property insurance coverage.)
- The City applied for Texas Department of Rural Affairs Round 1 Funding of $1.2 million for Hurricane Ike Disaster Recovery.
- City Council approved an application to the Texas Department of Transportation for a Routine Airport Maintenance Grant. Grant funds will be used at the Livingston Municipal Airport for application of herbicide, improvements to lighting and development of a plan to prevent pollution of storm water drainage.

City Council approved its 2009-10 annual budget. In the midst of declining sales taxes and major infrastructure costs in its water and sewer facilities, this was accomplished without imposition of an ad valorem property tax.

Finance

The Finance Department works with all areas of the City of Livingston as a financial steward, ensuring income is invested back into the community through the many services the City provides.

Murphy Memorial Library

Priscilla Emrich, Library Director.

From the left: Nita Kuehn; Jerri Greene; Sabrina Jackson; Jessica Honc.

From answering reference questions and providing computer access to hosting reading clubs and Storytimes for children, the Murphy Memorial Library connects to the community by offering educational resources and opportunities.

- A total of 34,801 customers entered the library, checking out a total of 66,429 items.
- The library staff fielded 2,260 reference questions.
- The library's collection increased by 3,260 items.
- The staff registered 835 new customers, with another 1,312 renewing their memberships.
- Computer access totaled 6,053 hours, used by 10,366 customers.
- The Friends of the Library provided a grant to purchase large print books.
- An award of $8,000 was received from the J. Frank Dobie Trust for the purchase of bilingual and Spanish language children's books and audiobooks.
- The library provided 149 programs for children, including Storytimes for pre-schoolers, Toddler Times for infants and toddlers, and offsite Storytime and Toddler Time to children in local schools and daycare centers.
- The Summer Reading Club provided "Deep in the Heart of Texas" crafts, story time and entertainment; more than 175 children participated.
- Staff provided 11 adult computer classes.

Livingston Municipal Court

From the left: Gene Bush, Associate Judge; Sarah Milner, Court Clerk; Mack Coats, Judge.

The Livingston Municipal Court serves the community by presiding over the City's courts with justice and fairness, ensuring that Livingston is a safe community for all residents.

- City Council appointed Gene Bush as Associate Judge of the Livingston Municipal Court.

Police Department

The Livingston Police Department not only protects the City from crime, but is deeply connected to the community through volunteering at annual events, offering safety programs to businesses and organizations and raising scholarship donations for Livingston's graduating seniors.

- Sgt. Leon Middleton was promoted to Detective.
- The department purchased two new patrol units to replace older units taken out of service.
- Officers participated in presenting public safety programs to various businesses and organizations in the community.
- The department was awarded a Bureau of Justice Grant in the amount of $16,431, which provided equipment for patrol units and investigations.
- The department was awarded a Homeland Security Grant, which funded Emergency Operations Center equipment, additional radio equipment, an interview audio/video recorder system and a communications voice recorder used for recording telephone and radio.
- The Caran Coward Memorial Scholarship was awarded to four graduating seniors from Livingston High School. Department employees raised funds for the scholarships by cooking and selling hamburgers at the local Lowe's Home Improvement store.
- The Livingston Police Department, along with the Polk County Peace Officers Association, was once again defeated in its annual basketball competition with the Livingston Special Olympics Basketball Team, the "Go Getters."
- During the annual Special Olympics Basketball Tournament, volunteers from the department cooked hamburgers for the attendees.

Livingston Volunteer Fire Department

The Livingston Volunteer Fire Department serves the community in more ways than just battling blazing fires. In 2009, the department held its Second Annual Community Blood Drive and its annual fire training school that was attended by hundreds of students and instructors.

- The department responded to 756 calls for service. At least 10 of those calls were a result of drought conditions, during which the County had banned outdoor burning.
- The department provided fire prevention programs to over 3,500 students and adults in schools, daycare facilities and community groups.
- The department conducted its annual fire training school, attended by over 400 students and instructors. Members once again attended the annual week-long training school at the National Emergency Response Training Center in College Station conducted by the Texas Engineering Extension Service.
- The department received a military truck from the Texas Forest Service to be used in responding to flood events and wildfires.

Garage Department

From the left: Kelly Smith; Keith Foxworth,
Garage Superintendent.

Livingston's Garage Department works tirelessly to ensure the City is always working. From maintaining generators to fabricating specialty tools, this department makes sure that every City department has just what it needs to better serve the community.

- The Garage Department fabricated the bed of a retired sewer maintenance truck to be used as a flatbed truck for miscellaneous hauling.
- Emergency lighting, a radio and rigging were installed on two new service trucks.
- The department installed emergency equipment on new police patrol cruisers.
- The Garage Department fabricated and built specialty tools needed for City department jobs.
- The department was responsible for maintaining 11 generators that supply electricity to various City facilities during power outages and for maintaining and repairing more than 135 pieces of equipment used by various City departments.
- The Garage Department also maintained gasoline and diesel fuel supply for all City-owned vehicles and equipment.

The Community Development Department is a piece of our City's puzzle that often works behind the scenes, keeping the City going strong and ensuring Livingston is attractive to new businesses and residents.

- The department sponsored its annual Community Cleanup at Pedigo Park in May.
- City Council amended its Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance to accommodate National Flood Insurance Program requirements.
- Through an Interlocal Agreement with the Polk County Central Appraisal District, the City acquired access to the District's pictometry imagery database.
- The department conducted 699 inspections during 2009.

Economic Development

Jerry Marsh, Building Official.

Brittany Lane.

The City's economic development continued to show growth within the community. City Council cooperated with the Polk County Economic and Industrial Development Corporation and other local entities to support expansion of local businesses and attract new businesses to the area.

- Polk County broke ground on its new Judicial Center in January and Council approved easements supporting the development. Livingston ISD also began construction of its new high school campus. Capital expansion within the City continued with the Polk County Jail expansion and highway improvements on the US 59 Bypass, US 59 Business and US 190.
- City Council consented to Lufkin Health Facilities Development Corporation's issuance of bonds for improvements to Memorial Medical Center-Livingston.
- City Council approved the preliminary plat of Livingston Town Center and considered incentives to be offered for economic development.
- City Council approved the Master Plan proposed for a 1.83 acre tract to be developed as Phase 1 of the Livingston Business Plaza.
- Peoples State Bank moved to a newly constructed location.
- Livingston Montessori School constructed additions to its campus.
- City Council approved replatting plans for development of additional lots on Bluebird Street by Habitat for Humanity of Polk County.
- Supporting the Livingston-Polk County Chamber of Commerce, the City of Livingston joined several other local entities in adopting regulations encouraging commercial film making.

117 Southpoint Lane, Suite 400 (Dental Office).

Electric Department

Ensuring the City has electricity isn't the only way the Electric Department serves the community. The Electric Department can be counted on for a variety of projects—from installing generators and repairing damaged electric poles to escorting oversized trucks through town and maintaining the City's rights-of-way.

- The Electric Department replaced wiring harnesses on many of the light fixtures at the Livingston Youth Baseball Park. Department teams also removed many dead trees that endangered the City's electric distribution system's reliability.
- Teams from the department built new spans of overhead and underground primary line to serve the building expansion of Livingston Montessori School.
- The ground level of metal poles connecting the Livingston and Ogletree Substations were resurfaced by the Electric Department.
- Electric Department teams set 500 kva padmount transformers for service upgrades at Three Bucks Carwash and First State Bank and to service Dr. Katari's new building.
- The department assisted in installation of emergency standby generators at City facilities and with pump motor replacement at the TRA Water Treatment Plant.
- A new airswitch was installed, and the first phase of line extension was completed on Feeder #213 on US 59 North.
- The department installed an electronic recloser on South Washington Street.
- A temporary overhead feeder was built to aid in construction of the new Polk County Jail facility without interrupting power to the Polk County Sheriff's Office.
- Throughout the year, the department helped escort several unusually large, oversized loads through the City.
- Mowing and trimming maintenance of City electric line rights-of-way was provided by the Electric Department.
- A 480-volt transformer station was built to serve Southern Star Concrete.
- The department worked to replace electric poles that were damaged in automobile accidents.
- One of the department's ½ ton pickup trucks was replaced with a ¾ ton pickup.

Main Street

Bob Zeigler, Livingston Main Street Manager.

Livingston Main Street continued to serve the community by leading the charge of restoring downtown Livingston to its historic past—and its hard work is paying off. Four new businesses relocated to the Livingston Main Street District in 2009 and two existing businesses expanded their operations to the District.

- Building and business owners in the 10-block Livingston Main Street District took advantage of the reimbursement grants offered by the Livingston Main Street Program to the tune of $16,650. These reimbursements spurred over $90,000 of reinvestment in the District in 2009. Over $1,000,000 has been reinvested in the downtown area since Livingston became a Main Street City in 2005.
- Livingston Main Street has provided over $60,000 in reimbursement grants and permit fee waivers in the past four years. Local fundraisers are the sole source of revenue for these reimbursement grants.
- In 2009, the Texas Historical Commission completed renderings of two buildings in the Livingston Main Street District so they can be reclaimed in the near future. This free service is provided to building owners in the Livingston Main Street District.
- Livingston Main Street hosted the Red, White and Blue Fourth of July Parade.
- The Third Annual Downtown Garage Sale was held in November. This event grows each year and has taken on a festival feel with food and arts and crafts vendors now participating.
- Livingston Main Street, joined by all City departments, helped host Hometown Christmas in December.
- Livingston Main Street Manager Bob Zeigler attended trainings in Sonora, Beeville and Bastrop.

Parks and Recreation

The Parks and Recreation Department planned exciting City-wide events, hosting regular monthly Trade Days and providing special seasonal events throughout the year.

Events Coordinator.

- Trade Days completed its 10th year of operations with an average of 151 vendors attending each monthly event. Advertising efforts attracted vendors and shoppers from Livingston and from as far away as Wisconsin, Utah, South Dakota, Montana, Arizona, Illinois, California, Minnesota, North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania and Iowa. Trade Days events included the 8th Annual Spring Outdoor Expo held in March, the Texas Pioneer Bird Show held in June, the Fall Fun Bash held in October, and the annual Dog Show held in November. To show appreciation to Trade Days vendors, City-sponsored vendor dinners were hosted in August and November.
- The City's 10th Annual "Easter Eggstravaganza" drew large crowds of children who hunted more than 20,000 Easter Eggs stuffed with candy and prize tokens. Local businesses donated candy and more than 200 prizes, including bicycles, tricycles, swimming pools, sports equipment, Easter baskets, stuffed animals, electronics and other toys and games.
- The annual KidFish fishing tournament was held in April for children ranging in age from toddlers to 17 years old. The event promotes fishing as a hobby to Livingston's children and youth. For the event, the Texas Game Wardens Association stocked Pedigo Park Pond with catfish. Other sponsors of the KidFish event included Academy Sports & Outdoors (Lufkin), First National Bank, First State Bank and the VFW.
- Twelve summer camps were offered by the City in 2009, which were attended by more than 160 participants.
- The annual Hometown Christmas celebration attracted many visitors in spite of inclement weather and approximately 168 walkers and runners, many in costume, participated in the event's Jingle Bell Fun Run. Vendors, a petting zoo and carriage rides were popular attractions surrounding City Hall, and the event concluded with a lighted evening parade and an appearance from Santa at City Hall.
- Pedigo Park was the site for several community events, notably the 8th Annual Polk County Relay for Life which raised more than $295,000 for the American Cancer Society, and "The Battle of Long King Creek" Civil War Re-enactment which was hosted by the Ike Turner Camp of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.
- The City's Matthews Park Swimming Pool offered a summer full of activities, including swimming lessons for over 476 children and its first annual Beach Party.

The Street and Water and Wastewater Departments improved City roads and utilities. Together these departments make up the City's Public Works Department. Whether maintaining fire hydrants, replacing water lines, repairing lift stations or collecting brush and debris, the Public Works Department is always hard at work for the residents of Livingston.

WATER AND WASTEWATER DEPARTMENT

- Department crews started several utility and drainage projects, including upgrades to the City's Cemetery Hill and Poleyard pump systems, and upgrading the sewer lift stations serving the area surrounding the US 59 Bypass.
- Teams from the Water and Wastewater Department installed 14,350 feet of new water line, including 6,900 feet of 2-inch line, 3,800 feet of 6-inch line and 3,650 feet of 8-inch line. These new lines replaced more than 18,000 feet of problematic water lines in the city.
- The City continued the process of upgrading its sewer system by jetting approximately 555,000 feet, smoke testing 22,800 feet, and video taping over 24,000 feet of sewer line. Thirty-five manholes and four sewer lift stations were rehabilitated, and direct storm water inflow into the sanitary sewer system was corrected.
- Department crews continued maintenance and replacement of fire hydrants throughout the City.
- City Council amended its Water Conservation Plan to meet requirements of the Texas Water Development Board. Due to the extended period of drought, the City instituted voluntary water restrictions under its Drought Contingency Plan.
- City Council authorized repairs of the decanter seals at the City's Wastewater Treatment Plant.

In memory of George Pichardo.

STREET DEPARTMENT

- Street crews continued regularly scheduled brush collection throughout the City and removed 22,000 cubic yards of vegetative debris left behind by Hurricane Ike.
- In addition to ongoing ditch and drainage maintenance, the department constructed a major drainage channel between Martin Luther King Street and West Street.
- The City received $250,000 in Community Development Block Grants from the Texas Department of Rural Affairs for street improvements to be made throughout the City.
- Street crews continued to maintain and improve signs throughout the City, including installation of retro-reflective stop signs.
- Street maintenance included installing more than 25,000 square yards of seal coat, 700 tons of hot mix, 400 tons of cold mix and 1,500 tons of rock on City streets.

Personnel

In early 2010, the City held its 17th Annual Employee Appreciation and Awards Banquet, recognizing employees for their service and efforts during 2009.
